

Dipl. Inform. Christoph Holz

Christoph Holz explains the complex digital world in an incomparable and humorous way. His exciting thought experiments show the larger context and the very personal effects on each individual. The computer scientist and aerospace engineer knows what he is talking about. He is a start-up founder, Silicon Valley entrepreneur, angel investor and a true cyborg. Like no other, he translates digital knowledge into logical future scenarios and surprising consequences.

His activities as a speaker, podcaster and university lecturer have taken Holz from CeBit and TEDx to Google in California. Christoph Holz knows how to inspire with linguistic wit, impressive images and extraordinary examples. He combines technology, society and business into a meaningful whole. His perspectives for the future take away people's fear of change and contain numerous transferable suggestions.

“ The world has always overwhelmed us.
To keep it that way, there is progress. ”

REFERENCES & PRESS

Thought experiments as a training camp for a successful future. Mind games do not predict the future. But they can make complex realities tangible. They play with the conceivable and take away the fear of the unknown. With my thought experiments, the lecture is shaped by the audience along their specific interests. A method that is fun on- and offline, intensifies the lecture and involves people interactively - and has a long-lasting effect.
